

Nickerson Puts Career On Line

HUNTSVILLE, Ala., June 24 (AP)—Army Col. John C. Nickerson Jr., 41, will lay his 23 years in the military—11 as a rocket expert—before a 10-man court-martial tomorrow.

Nickerson faces 18 charges of espionage, perjury and disobedience of orders.

If convicted on all counts, Nickerson, a 1938 graduate of West Point, could be imprisoned for 46 years, suffer a dishonorable discharge and be fined $10,000.

Nickerson, a brilliant mathematician, deliberately sought this trial—he said as much—in order to focus national publicity on the Army missile program.

Effect

In effect Nickerson is jeopardizing his military career in a protest against the order last November by Secretary of Defense Wilson limiting the Army to development of 200-mile range missiles.

This order followed by two months the successful firing of an Army missile in the Jupiter series some 3,000 miles from a Florida launching site.

Another Jupiter was flown early this month 1,500 miles at a speed around 5,000 m.p.h. and the flight subsequently was described as the only successful firing of a guided missile beyond 200 miles.

Funds for further development of the Jupiter, the brainchild of former German V2 bomb experts, are due to run out in November of this year.

Charges

The charges against Nickerson stem from four papers he wrote protesting the Wilson order.

These papers, the Army charges, contained secret technical data and were placed by Nickerson in the hands of unauthorized persons, chiefly congressmen, newspaper editors and columnists and industrial sources.

The trial, which gets under way at 9 a.m. will draw some of the nation's top missile men as defense witnesses, including Dr. Werner von Braun, Director of the Army ballistic missile agency here, Von Braun is the former German scientist who headed the V2 program at Peenemunde during World War II.

Nickerson is being defended by a battery of four lawyers—two military and two civilian. His civilian attorneys are Ray Jenkins of Knoxville, Tenn., who was the Senate committee counsel in the Army-McCarthy hearing, and Robert K. (Buster) Bell of Huntsville. His military lawyers are Lt. Col. Charles R. Zimmer, post judge advocate at Ft. McClellan, Ala., and Zimmer's assistant, Lt. Lewis Cole.

House Votes $133 Million To Post Office

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP)—The House today voted the Post Office Department an extra 133 million dollars with the understanding there would be no curtailment of postal service during the coming fiscal year.

The action was by voice vote without opposition. The bill now goes to the Senate.

This money supplements $3,192,000,000 previously provided by Congress to operate the Post Office Department in the fiscal year starting July 1.

Postmaster General Summerfield had asked for an extra 149 million, and had said that if he didn't get it some service curtailment would be necessary.

But Appropriations Committee members told the House that with the 133 million dollars the department would not have to make any serious service curtailments.

Blinding Flash Marks New Test

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev., June 24 (AP)—A tremendous roar and a flash that was blinding even in daylight followed the explosion today of the most powerful nuclear device fired so far in the current series of tests.

The Atomic Energy Commission touched off the weapon—the first to be fired in daylight—at 6:30 a.m. from a huge helium-filled, plastic balloon suspended 700 feet above the desert.

Observers said it was like a "second sunrise."

It was the 50th detonation since the United States began experimenting here and the fifth in the current series. The blast was heard as a rumble at Tonopah, Nev., and Bishop, Calif., both about 100 miles away, and also at Reno, Nev., some 300 miles distant.

Force

Scientists said the force of the explosion was so great at the control point building, 14 miles away, that swinging doors at the entrance ways were torn from their hinges and interior walls were cracked at one entrance.

The test originally was slated for yesterday morning but unfavorable winds forced a 24-hour postponement.

Approximately 35 U. S. Air Force and Navy aircraft took part in the experiments and some 1,000 military observers watched the detonation from trenches about 4,500 yards from Ground Zero.

Exact size of the blast was not revealed but the AEC announced earlier that it would be more than 20 kilotons.

The AEC said 81 diagnostic and effects experiments and 32 major military experiments were conducted in connection with today's blast. Included were biomedical and fabric studies involving more than 900 pigs and other studies with a small number of rabbits and dogs. Bomb shelters and food also figured in the testing.

Wind Wrecks Two Homes

GREENVILLE, Pa., June 24 (AP)—A violent storm, described by witnesses as a tornado, struck today at Leeches Corners, four miles north of Greenville, wrecking two houses. No one was reported injured.

In Pittsburgh the U. S. Weather Bureau declined to designate the storm a tornado on the basis of information it had.

"State police said there was no evidence of funnels or tornadoes and only strong winds," said a spokesman for the Weather Bureau.

Four Navy Pilots Killed

NORFOLK, Va., June 24 (AP)—Four Navy aviators were killed today by the crash of a four-engine bomber when two attack bombers collided and plunged into Chesapeake Bay.

The two North American AJ Savage bombers from the Norfolk Naval Air Station were on routine training flights when they collided at about 500 feet about a mile and a half off Ocean View Park fishing pier.

Paper Printed In New Plant

TODAY'S ISSUE of The Daily Record is the first to be published on the 20-page Duplex press in the new plant at Broad and Lenox Sts., South Stroudsburg.

Moving of the mechanical department of the newspaper was accomplished yesterday. The photo-engraving department will be transferred today from the old plant on Seventh St., to the new location.

Commercial printing operations will be moved at the close of business Friday.

Persons wishing to reach The Record Building from the Stroudsburg business section may do so by turning left on Lenox St. after crossing the Seventh St. Bridge or by going via the Fifth St. Bridge and then turning right on Lenox St.

Because of the delay occasioned due to the moving yesterday, some of the regular features do not appear in today's issue. They will be resumed as conditions permit.

Supreme Court Launches War On Obscene Material

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP)—The Supreme Court today armed federal and state authorities with powerful weapons to war on obscene literature.

In one of a series of rulings, the court specifically held that obscenity is outside the First Amendment's protection for free speech and press.

The decisions upheld:

1. The federal law prohibiting the mailing of indecent literature.

2. A California law which makes it an offense for any person to write, compose, publish, sell, keep for sale, advertise or distribute any book which is "obscene or indecent."

3. A New York law which permits issuance of injunctions by judges against distribution and sale of publications they find to be obscene.

In addition, the court affirmed a decision by the New Jersey Supreme Court upholding an "anti-strip-tease" law enacted by the City of Newark.

The Supreme Court ended its business for the 1956-57 term except for the controversial case of GI William S. Girard, involving whether he shall be tried in Japanese courts or by U. S. court-martial for manslaughter in the shooting of a Japanese woman. The justices will hear arguments on that case July 8; there was no indication whether the decision would be made before the next court term begins Oct. 7.

Hoffa Lawyer Makes Move

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP)—Labor boss Jimmy Hoffa's lawyer today moved to suppress testimony from the government's key witness in Hoffa's bribery-conspiracy trial.

Dennis counsel Edward Bennett Williams obtained court permission to argue tomorrow morning out of the presence of the jury that testimony from John Cye Cheasty, New York lawyer, should be barred.

Heavy Storms Hit Sections Of State

By The Associated Press
THUNDERSTORMS accompanied by heavy rain and strong wind in some sections lashed Pennsylvania Monday night.

In Mercer County a severe storm struck north of Greenville and wrecked two houses. Another storm hit south of Greenville. No one was reported injured.

Residents described the storms as tornadoes but the U. S. Weather Bureau said it had no evidence of tornadoes in that area.

Philadelphia
Electrical storms hit Philadelphia and Altoona, flooding streets and stopping traffic in some sections. There were some reports of damage.

At Indiantown Gap near Harrisburg 22 members of the Army Reserve were injured when lightning struck near their gun position.

Titusville reported heavy rain, and some wind damage.

Temperatures ranged from the 70s in the northwest part of the state to 92 in Philadelphia.

A severe weather warning issued for western Pennsylvania yesterday afternoon was called off about 10 p.m.

One of the violent Mercer County storms hit at Leeches Corners, four miles north of Greenville.

Mine Expert Makes Charge

HARRISBURG, June 24 (AP)—A one-time federal mining expert contended at the turnpike trial today that the cost of stabilizing a six-mile section of the toll road was three times as high as the actual highway construction.

James H. Pierce, Scranton, told the court that Manu-Mine Research and Development Co., Reading, asked for 3 million dollars a mile to fill mine voids under a section of the Northeastern Extension of the toll road.

Dies Of Injuries

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 24 (AP)—Denise Ellis, 7, of Batavia, died today of injuries suffered yesterday in the collision of two cars in the Town of Perry, Wyoming County.

Byrd Attacks Claims Of High National Prosperity

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP)—Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) today attacked administration claims of high national prosperity and said "inflation is threatening our national life."

A noted economist, Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, blamed labor unions, business and the farmers, rather than the government, for postwar inflation.

Their views were the highlights of talks before a meeting of the National Citizens Committee to Curb Inflation.

Byrd said the government is not in a sound economic condition and declared: "To my mind inflation is as dangerous to the nation's economic life as the H-bomb is to its physical life."

Billy Graham Speaks To Christians

NEW YORK, June 24 (AP)—Billy Graham addressed himself tonight to those who have already decided to try to live a Christian life, but aren't entirely sure how to go about it.

Addressing about 18,300 persons in Madison Square Garden, the evangelist from North Carolina said that the first step in Christian living is acceptance of Christ as the savior. Then, he said, being a Christian takes "a lifetime of working at it."

He took his text from Col. 1:27: "To whom God would make known what is the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles, which is Christ in you, the hope of glory..."

Christian
A Christian, he said, is "one in whom Christ dwells."

Specifically, he said, there are four steps to keep in mind in trying to lead a Christian life:

1. Prayer — "It must be learned — the Bible said teach us to pray... and I don't mean pray just when you feel like it."

2. Faith — the Christian must have faith as absolute as the child's belief that "daddy can do anything."

3. Bible reading — "Read some portion of your Bible daily."

4. Lead a disciplined life — this includes going to church regularly.

State Figures In Milk Testimony

HARRISBURG, June 24 (AP)—A spokesman for milk dealers in the New York City area testified today that Pennsylvania would lack authority to set minimum prices higher than fixed by federal regulation for milk sold outside the state.

"We think the highest price that can be required by a public agency is that set by the secretary of agriculture," said E. E. Vial, executive director of the Milk Dealers Assn., of Metropolitan New York. "We think the price established under federal order supersedes the state price."

Vial testified at a hearing of the Pennsylvania Milk Control Commission on a petition by the Interstate Milk Producers' Cooperative of Philadelphia. The commission is asked the question to fix minimum prices on milk produced here and sold outside the state's borders.

House Legislation

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP)—Two House members introduced legislation today to set up a central security office to coordinate the government employees' loyalty program.

Red Chinese Shell Quemoy

TAIPEI, Formosa, June 24 (AP)—Red China's artillerymen and Nationalist gunners guarding the Quemoy Islands fought today their biggest battle of a vest pocket war now in its third year.

Reviving speculation that the Communists might attempt invasion, mainland batteries hurled shell after shell at Quemoy and its sister islands, fortified strongholds in Formosa Strait a few thousand yards offshore.

Veteran Nationalist troops returned the fire vigorously from gun emplacements dotting the reddish croplands and white hills of Quemoy, home to 50,000 Nationalist farmers and fishermen.

Announcement
The Nationalist Defense Ministry announced the Reds fired a total of 9,365 shells in an exchange that lasted from 10:30 a. m. until nightfall. Details on the Nationalist counterfire, usually more than measure for measure, were not disclosed.

There was no announcement as to casualties.

The biggest previous duel came when the Communist gunners launched their campaign against the offshore islands with more than 6,000 shells Sept. 3, 1954. Light exchanges had broken out last week. The Nationalists counted 1,641 shells in a Red bombardment Saturday.

As always when the tempo of Red gunfire picks up, there was talk among the followers of Chiang Kai-shek that the Communists might be softening up the offshore islands as a prelude to invasion. A strike by combat units at the offshore islands could prompt American intervention if it was interpreted as the start of a drive on Formosa, 100 miles to the East.

The islands, with a total area of about 70 square miles, are garrisoned by American-trained, American-equipped veterans unofficially estimated to number 77,000 men.

It is possible the bombardment today was intended to test American reaction, so the Communists could judge how far they can go.

Cooper Drives At 145 MPH

MOJAVE, Calif., June 24 (AP)—Highway patrolmen say actor Jackie Cooper, with his 10-year-old son as a passenger, hit 145 m.p.h. in his $12,000 sports car during a desert chase.

One patrol car blew a tire at 115 m.p.h. and another tore the tread off a tire at 120 before Cooper finally was stopped at a roadblock, officers said. The chase took place Saturday but was not made public until today.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., June 24 (AP)—Bids for construction of 121 housing units at eight Air Force bases will be accepted at Stewart Air Force Base here tomorrow. The bases include Benton, Pa., 15 units.

Eisenhower Issues Tax Challenge

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., June 24 (AP)—President Eisenhower tonight challenged the states to open the way for federal tax cuts by taking over some costly programs now financed wholly or partly by the national government.

The President put his proposal—calling for a hike in state taxes—squarely up to the governors of the states in a major address prepared for delivery at their annual conference.

Speaking in this historic American community, Eisenhower cautioned that in recent times "more and more rapidly the pendulum of power has swung from our states to the central government."

He proposed creation of "a task force for action"—a joint committee charged with these three responsibilities: "1. To designate functions which the states are ready and willing to assume and finance that are now performed or financed wholly or in part by the federal government; "2. To recommend the federal and state revenue adjustments required to enable the states to assume such functions; and

"3. To identify functions and responsibilities likely to require state or federal attention in the future and to recommend the level of state effort, or federal effort, or both, that will be needed to assure effective action."

Eisenhower mentioned such projects as slum clearance and disaster relief as examples of programs which he feels can be financed perhaps wholly—or at least to the extent of a bigger share than at present—by the states. The federal government now carries a big portion of the cost of such projects.

The President said the federal-state committee which he proposed be created should specify, among other things, "the amounts by which federal taxes should be reduced," and the "increases in state revenues needed to support the transferred functions."

He suggested that as a starter, the committee might well concentrate on a single project "and paid it with a specific federal tax or tax amount." Then he added: "This effort presupposes that federal taxes would be cut more than state taxes would be raised to support the transferred functions."

Thinning
Fruit Key
To Success

By George Abraham

APPLE TREES: Most home gardeners don't bother to thin fruit on their apple or peach tree, a job commercial growers do by chemical thinning sprays. Nature has already thinned fruits in some areas, simply by the late spring frosts which killed many blossoms, or by winter injury. Normally apple trees and other fruits will bear more than the tree should, and then you have to step in and hand remove some of the little fruits. This thinning of fruit is worth the effort as it allows you to remove some of the blemished fruit, it lightens the tree load, and also prevents limbs from breaking. By reducing number of fruits to the number of leaves, you get larger, sweeter and better colored fruit.

To thin, all you have to do is break off each fruit with your fingers. Peaches (nature did a brutal thinning job this year in some areas!) when in good supply can be thinned so that the fruits are 6 to 8 inches apart along the branches and twigs. Apples should be 4 to 8 inches apart after hand-thinning. And they should be thinned down to one fruit per spur. Plums can be thinned two to four inches apart.

Don't leave too many fruits on the tree after thinning, or you'll be wasting your time. About 30 leaves are needed to nourish a single peach, and about 50 leaves are needed to grow a good apple. It's not necessary to count the leaves, but just try to thin the fruits down to the above spacings, and you'll see a big difference in the quality of your fruit. Commercial growers thin fruit just as regularly as they prune or feed.

Mowing Lawns: With Summer heat with us, give your lawn a break and mow the grass high. Most of us like to see a lawn shaved down to about three-quarters of an inch, but only a few grasses can stand this punishment. It's the green blades of grass that give a lawn green color and not the yellow stems that are exposed when clipped closely. Set your mower for one and one-half inches and make frequent cuttings, rather than by making a few settings with close shaves.

One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest: A good cut flower preservative? We've tried it on many flowers and cannot see where the tablets do a bit of good. The idea started years ago, the story goes, when a nurse accidentally dropped a couple tablets in a vase of asters.

Question
Box

Mrs. S. H. of Easton: "I have a rose bed of Tiffany, Spartan and other choice rose bushes. The buds come out fine but for some reason they fail to open. Why won't the buds open up? I can't find any insects on them."

Failure of rose buds to open (called "balting") is usually blamed on thrips, a tiny insect that is easily overlooked. You can see thrips on opened blooms but they are almost invisible on young flower buds. Thrips saw their way down under the floral segments and "weld" the tissues together, causing failure to open, misshapen blooms or brown blossoms.

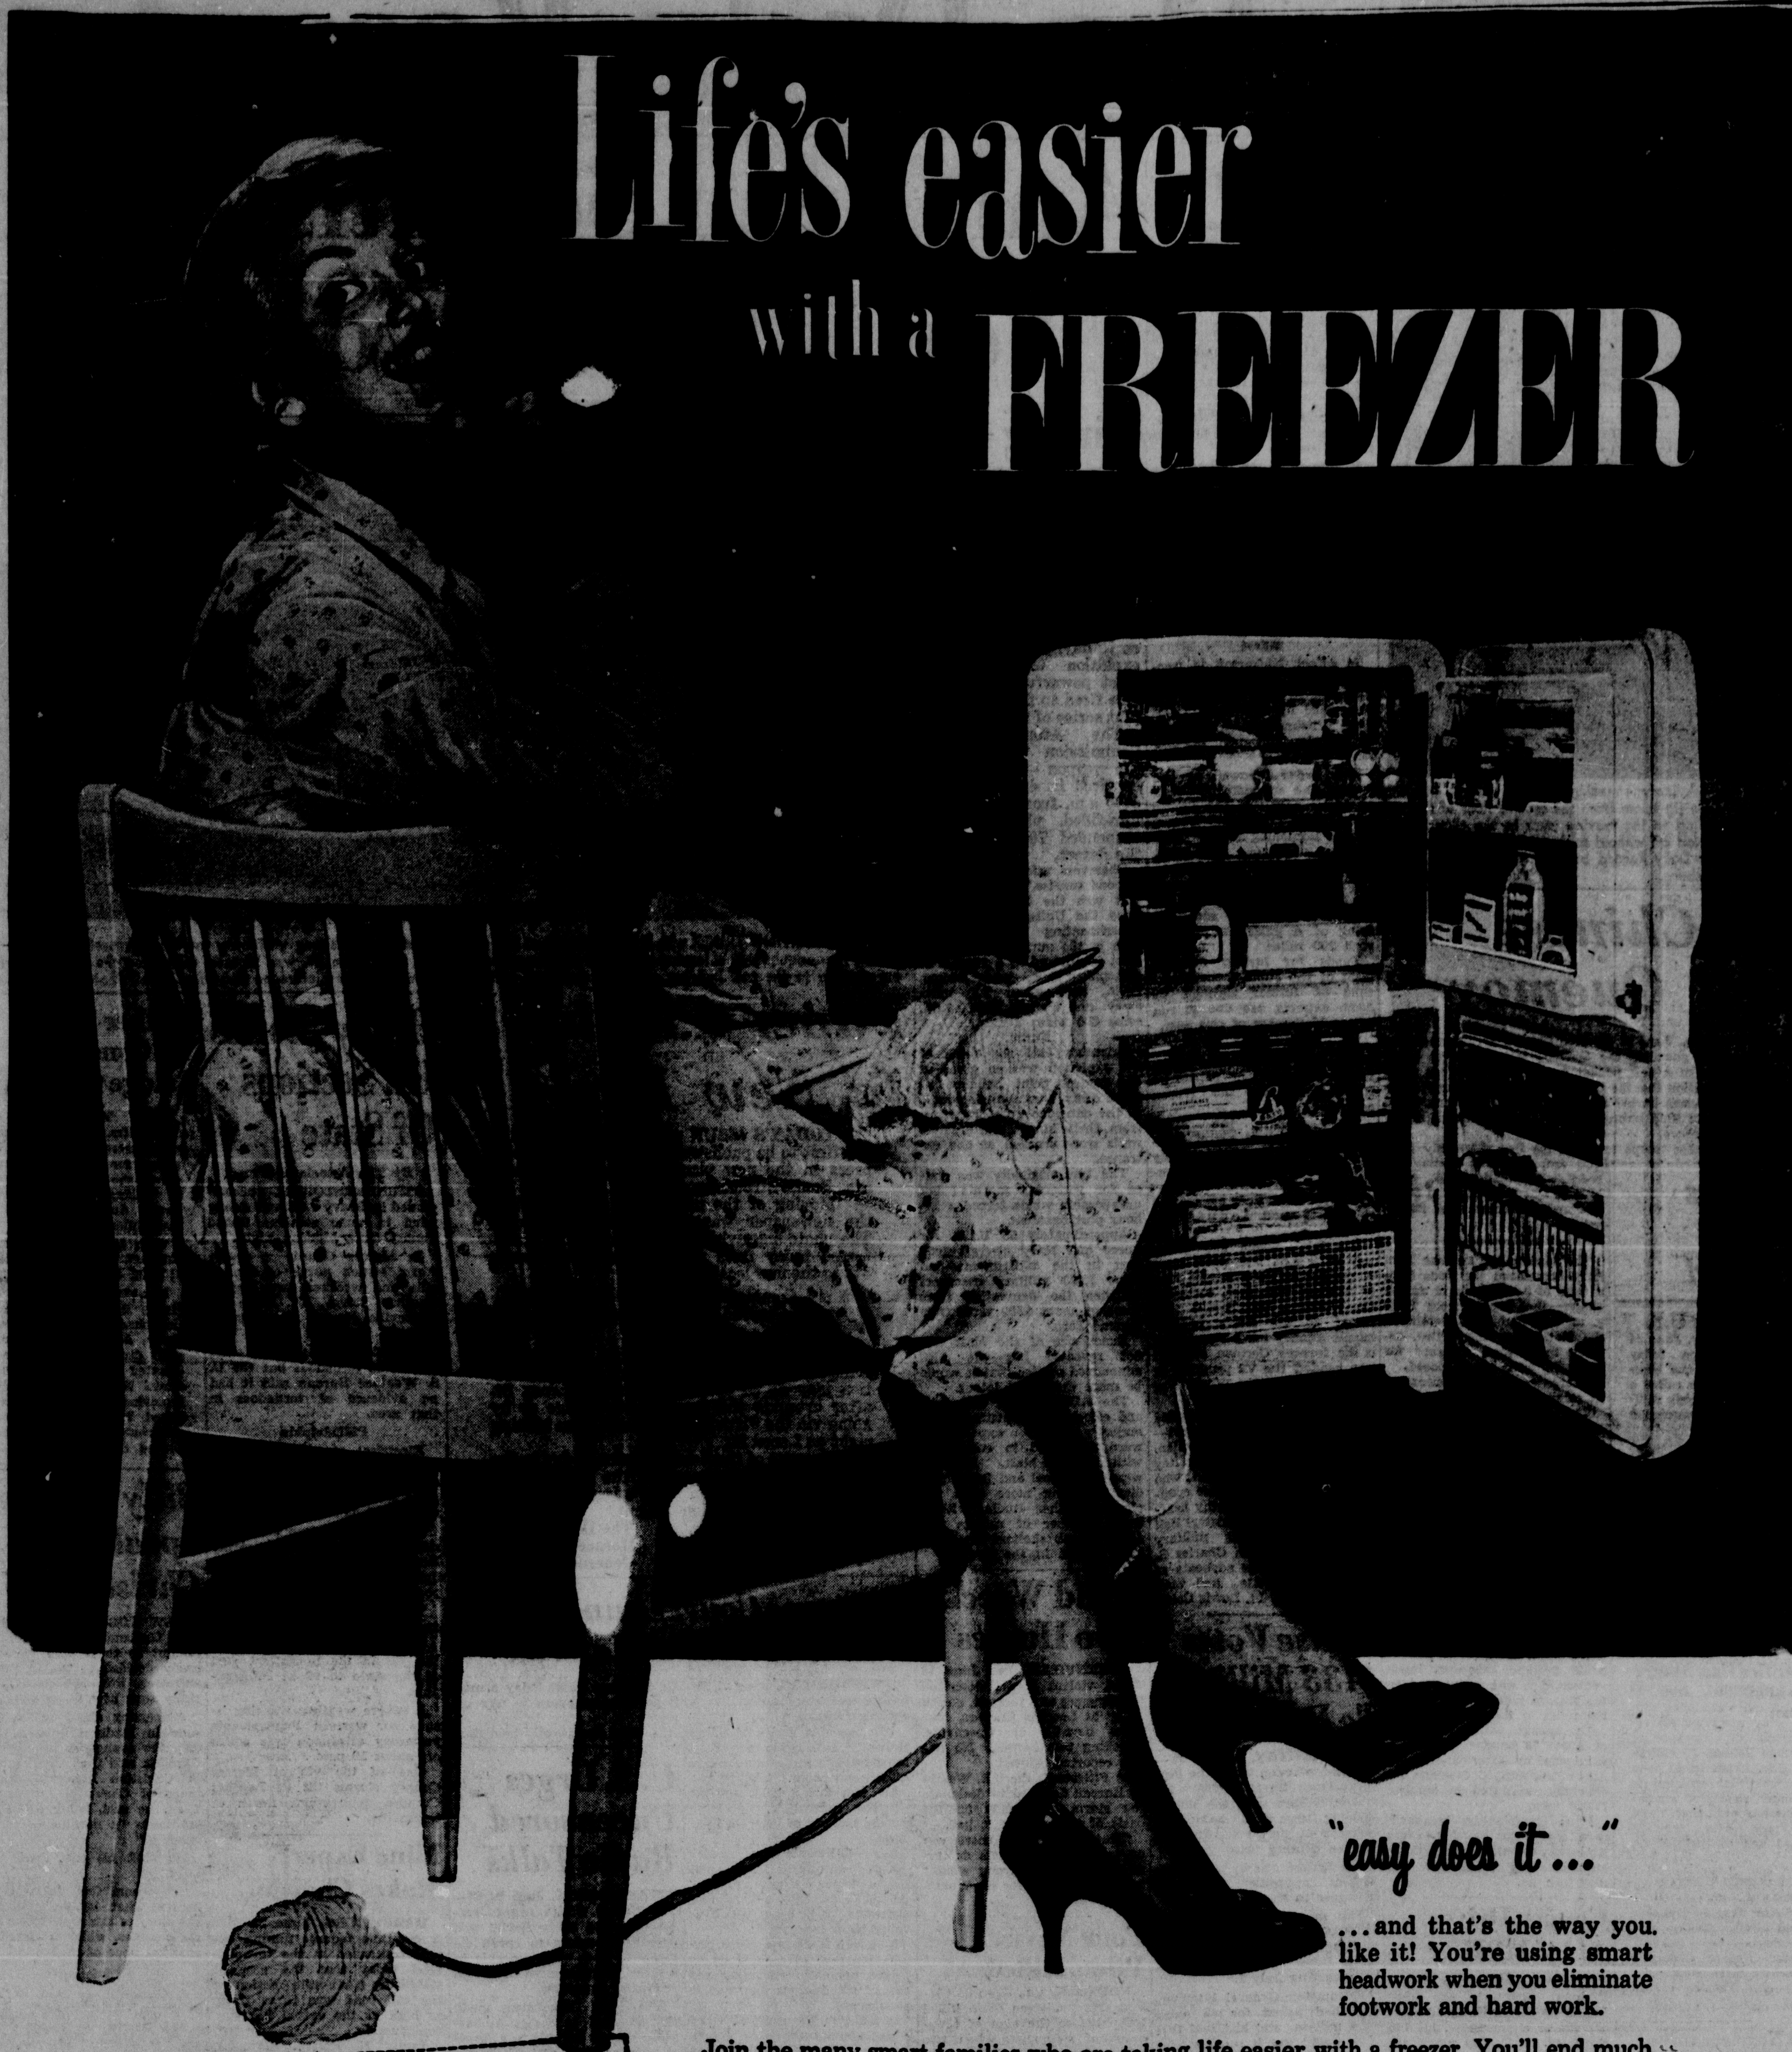

It's heartbreaking for the gardener to see his rose buds grow to a point where they are just ready to open, and then have them fail. Some times the entire bud rots and drops with out unfurling the petals. We've seen this sort of damage occur without thrips, too. Wet weather or sometimes will cause water to remain in the bud scales long enough to shut out oxygen and the buds will rot.

Thrip control: Once the thrip is inside nothing can be done but you can prevent further infection of later buds by dusting with Dieldrin, DDT or Lindane at weekly intervals, from the time the flower buds are pea size until they start to open.

Dust the undersides of leaves and tops. Allow a cloud of dust to settle down on the buds as that it will kill any thrips that happen to come along. Thrips migrate from one rose to another, or from weeds nearby so be sure to keep a coat of dust on the buds at all times for effective thrip control.

E. S. of Stroudsburg: "I have some spruce bushes which have never been trimmed. Could I cut them back to about four feet, the height we want them?"

You might better cut them back to the ground, leaving about 8 or 10 inches for new growth. If you cut them back to four feet you'll have a row of sticks, with no leaves on. If cut back to the ground now, they'll make new growth which can be trimmed to the height you want. This applies to all growing shrubs which are full of dead wood, or long twigs which can be trimmed to the height you want.

Chamber To Sponsor Air Race Entry

POCONO Mountains Vacation Bureau will this week sponsor the flight of a leading contestant in the 11th annual All-Woman Transcontinental Air Race, more commonly known as the "Powder Puff Derby".

The contestant is Beatrice Edgerly Macpherson, famed woman flyer, artist and writer of Bushkill and Tucson, Ariz. This will be Mrs. Macpherson's fifth year of participation in the internationally known race.

School
Mrs. Macpherson, with her artist husband J. Havard Macpherson, is a co-director of the Southern Arizona School of Art. She is also an art editor and columnist and has become well known as a writer for newspapers and magazines.

This year's Powder Puff Derby, now an aviation classic, will take off from the San Mateo County Airport, San Carlos, Calif., on the morning of July 6 and will cross the finish line at the North Philadelphia Airport on July 10, 1957. It will cover a course of 2,567 miles on a rugged route via Reno, Nev.; Salt Lake City, Utah; Cheyenne, Wyo.; Omaha, Neb.; Moline, Ill.; Fort Wayne, Ind.; Akron, O.; and Harrisburg.

The Awards Banquet will be held in Philadelphia on July 11. Mrs. Edgerly's plane will carry the legend "The Pocono Mountains of Pennsylvania."

Gillespie In Area

NATIONALLY famed band-leader Dizzy Gillespie and his orchestra passed through Stroudsburg Saturday.

The Gillespie band arrived in the Monroe County community in late afternoon.

Style
Gillespie was one of the leaders of the avant-garde "bop" style in jazz. Referred to by aficionados as "real gone" music, "bop" has nearly disappeared — in name — from the jazz scene.

Gillespie is now fronting a new band. It was this band, apparently, which was being transported in the large bus which stopped briefly on Route 209.

Our sad-faced friend is Bill McGoo,
Who thought he'd bought a car brand-new;
And while he got a "special deal"
His disappointment he can't conceal!
While others drive in Swept-Wing style
Poor Bill just mutters curses vile:
"They got new styling, features, too—
"I bought a 'deal'—boo-hoo, boo-hoo!"

Moral: Yesterday's looks and features are no bargain at any price!

No car is a bargain if it's obsolete in styling and engineering features. And the Swept-Wing Dodge actually obsoletes other cars in its field with its low, low look of tomorrow and revolutionary advances like Torsion-Aire Ride, Push-Button TorqueFlite and Total-Contact Brakes. So don't get "bargain-talked" into yesterday's styling and features. The same money buys the car that's years ahead. See your Dodge dealer. Join the swing to the Swept-Wing Dodge.

A New Plant, A Real Challenge

Today launches a new era in this newspaper's 63-year career of service to the community. With this issue, The Daily Record begins publication in its modern, new plant at Broad and Lenox Sts., South Stroudsburg.

It is also the first issue of The Record ever published outside the Record Building on N. Seventh St. in almost a half century—specifically, since Jan. 1, 1908.

The Record dates back to April 2, 1894, when The Daily Times was founded by the late George C. Hughes, who was publisher of the Stroudsburg Times, a weekly newspaper.

For many years, dating from Civil War days, The Democrat was published in what later was to become The Record Building, then a three-story wooden structure that occupied only the front part of the lot where the present building stands.

In the Fall of 1907, a fire destroyed the third floor and damaged the second floor and also the newspaper plant on the first floor.

The Daily Times almost immediately absorbed The Democrat and the paper became known as The Times-Democrat.

Monroe Publishing Co., with William Andre as president and C. H. Grove as secretary, founded The Record on Jan. 1, 1908, first as a weekly and a year later as a daily.

In 1913, The Morning Press was founded as a morning paper by Mr. Hughes, giving the community two afternoon and one morning newspapers.

The late Nelson A. Frantz, then manager of Monroe Publishing Co., and his two brothers purchased The Times-Democrat in 1930 and merged the two afternoon publications as The Record and Times-Democrat.

Four years later, the same company bought The Morning Press and continued to publish both morning and afternoon papers.

When The Morning Sun was started in 1939 by the Hughes family, the community once again had three papers—two morning and one afternoon. This situation existed until 1932, during the depression, when Monroe Publishing combined the circulation of The Morning Press and The Record.

In 1936, The Record purchased The Morning Sun and merged the two as The Daily Record, a morning paper. Mr. Frantz sold The Daily Record to Edward C. Breese in April, 1944 and it continued under his ownership until July 29, 1946, when it was purchased by James H. Ottaway, present publisher.

The last 11 years have witnessed a growth in both size and circulation of The Daily Record. A number of major improvements have been instituted in the same period—notably the addition of a full-time photo-engraving department and the installation of a Scan-A-Graver machine which turns photographs into plastic engravings within minutes.

It has become increasingly evident in the last few years that, despite the changes, cramped quarters were handicapping the personnel in their daily task of putting out the high-quality newspaper which everyone—from the publisher on down the line—is determined to produce.

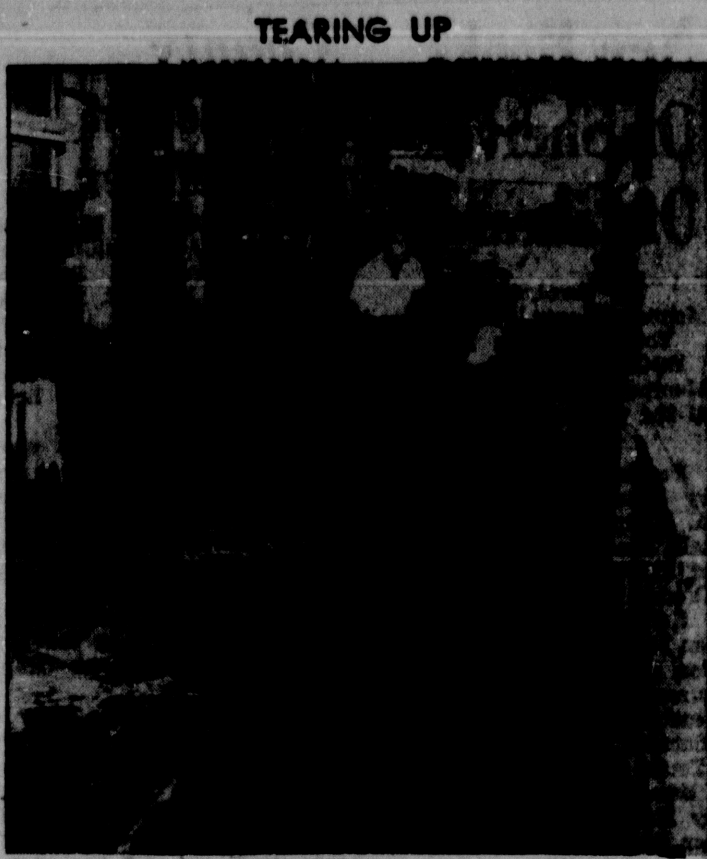

This condition has now led to the construction of a new building to house both the newspaper and the commercial printing department. The climax comes today with publication of this issue of The Daily Record.

Readers will notice only a few changes from The Record to which they have been accustomed. For one, the format has been varied somewhat in tune with the trend among newspapers. And gone is the unorthodox fold of the paper with the installation of a modern 20-page press.

Every employee of Pocono Record Inc. is mighty proud of the fine new quarters. They rate with the best to be found anywhere for a community of this size.

More important, however, is our realization that the public now has the right to expect a better product from us than was possible in our old plant.

This is a fair challenge—one which the entire personnel of Pocono Record Inc. accepts and pledges to meet squarely in the future.

New York, Says Oilman's Wife, Still Wonderful

By Mel Heimer
New York — Things one New Yorker thinks about:

Miss Betty Betz, the eternally youthful expert who a year and a half ago thought she gave up working when she married $20 million in the form of Canadian oilman Frank McMahon, sat back and regarded her handsome toes thoughtfully. "The trouble with living in New York," she said, "is that you don't really appreciate it. You go along from day to day and take everything for granted—and it's only when you move away, that you realize how wonderful it is."

Miss B. speaks with authority; she now is stationed in Calgary, the stamped place in Canada, where the temperature hits 45 below in winter and 200,000 persons live and work in the shadow of snow-capped mountains. She and Frank, who's engaged in completing a $180 million gas pipeline from Texas to Canada, spend about four months of the year in New York, lunching at Twenty-One, going to the race at Belmont, etc., and they love it. They love Calgary, too.

I've known Betty for years and years—since the days when she was writing a teenage column, appearing on television, turning out magazine articles and books... and was startled to learn she isn't completely divorced from the field.

"All that spadework," she says, "is paying off now. I've got a line of leather specialties on the market and so on—that the teenagers are buying in real great fashion." She grinned. "I guess I couldn't give up my work completely—even with my new life baby to take up my time."

I asked her what it was like to be married to the rugged, extroverted Frank McMahon, sitting in Leone's the other night with some people who were dedicating the famous old restaurant's Beau James Room, after the movie of the same name. I was overwhelmed with nostalgic longing for Jimmy Walker, the film's subject, Bob Hope—wink's still hard to look on as other than Bob Hope—did a skillful enough job in the cinema to make me wish Jimmy still was brightening the Manhattan scene.

The first building in the United States designed specifically as a theater was built in 1716 in Williamsburg, Va.

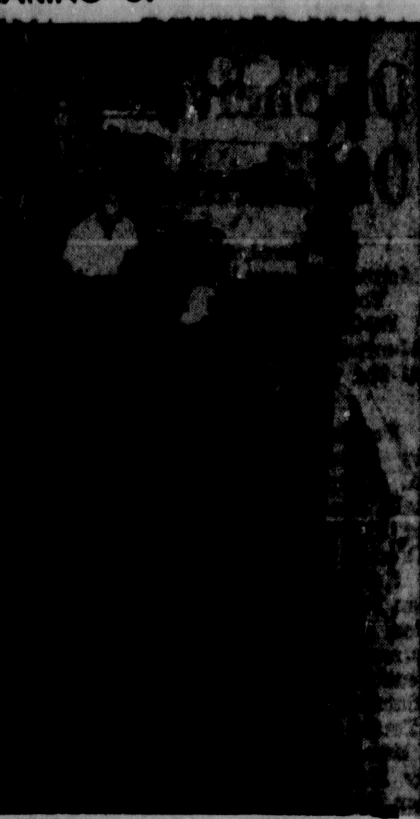

The chances are about four to one against anyone successfully swimming the English channel.

One felt too fat, another felt downy and badly dressed and another was worried because her hair was gray.

Other Complaints
One felt she had changed jobs too often, another felt she was a stick-in-the-mud with no ambition because she had stayed in the same job for twenty years.

Each one felt her own inadequacies but—and this is the important point—each one had thought the others were divinely well equipped!

Educator Outlines Merit Pay Plan

By Dr. Edmund H. Thorne
Superintendent of Schools
West Hartford, Conn.

There are two aspects of the West Hartford teachers' salary schedule: (a) Merit increments to teachers who have not reached the maximum, and (b) "career" awards to superior teachers who have reached the normal maximum and render outstanding service to the schools and the community.

(a) Merit increments. West Hartford's salary schedule is not automatic. Normally a teacher advances one step for each year of service. However, a double increment may be given for superior work, thereby accelerating him on the salary schedule. Annual increments may be withheld from a teacher failing to meet in-service growth requirements or whose work is not satisfactory.

(b) Career classification. In recognition of unusual teaching ability and service to the schools and community, the Board of Education may grant the teacher who has reached the maximum an additional $500 per year. At the end of three years, it is possible for him to qualify for another $500, and at the end of three more years, a third $500, making a total of $1500 above the normal maximum. The award, once given, is continued from year to year.

Present maximum salaries are: B.A. degree—$6,550; M.A. plus one—$6,850.

(c) Career Classification. Criteria have been established by the teachers and approved by the Board of Education. To be eligible for the "career" classification, the teacher must have been at the normal maximum for at least one year. Nomination may be made by the teachers' principal or any group of three teachers. If a teacher is not nominated by his principal or colleagues, he may request that he be considered. In all cases, the teachers' consent is necessary if he is to be considered for the "career" award.

A central administrative committee collects evidence,

No topic in public education has aroused more interest nor evoked more controversy than the question of merit pay for teachers. The so-called career salary plan in force in West Hartford, Conn., has proved successful and is recommended by its superintendent, Dr. Edmund H. Thorne (shown above), author of the accompanying article.

reviews all records, interviews principals and supervisors, and makes recommendations to the superintendent. This committee is composed of the Director of Elementary Education, an elementary principal, a junior high school principal, a senior high school principal and the assistant superintendent in charge of personnel. The Board of Education considers and officially approves the recommendations.

Announcement of teachers appointed to the "career" classification is made through the staff bulletin and the press. No attempt is made to keep the names secret. Teachers not selected may have their evaluation reviewed by the Superintendent or Board of Education.

Criteria for Selection
The person chosen shall show evidence of outstanding service to the schools and the community. He is expected to possess many of the following characteristics:

- (1) Teaching skills and pupil relationship . . . 65%
- (2) Has unusual skill in teaching techniques, creative and original; is continually seeking to

- (b) Has gone beyond the salary requirements of the Board of Education to improve himself as a teacher.
- (c) Is well-acquainted with recent research in child growth and development; knows how children grow and develop and makes good use of his knowledge.
- (d) Has thorough and deep seated knowledge of the subject he is teaching and keeps his knowledge up to date.
- (e) Is able to secure high level of achievement, considering pupils' maturity and capacity for learning.
- (f) Is kind, patient, and understanding of children; has real interest in sympathetic and in dealing with them.
- (g) Inspires children to do their best and to their best; develops in them the ability to assume responsibility and share in planning and carrying through activities.
- (h) Has demonstrated his willingness and ability to work with pupils in extra class activities before and after school.
- (i) Gives willingly of his time to help pupils make up class work missed or to stimulate and assist them in carrying out projects outside of class hours.
- (j) Has established a friendly and wholesome relationship between teacher and pupil. Pupils admire and respect the teacher as a person.

(2) Staff Relationships . . . 15%
(a) Accepts responsibility for the well-being of the school.
(b) Is ethical in all professional relationships; is an inspiration and help to fellow teachers. Commands their respect.
(c) Has true professional attitude; seems to advance the cause of education and the teaching profession. Is active in professional associations.
(d) Works to improve education in West Hartford and makes real contribution. Assumes responsibility for committee assignments, etc.

(3) Public Relations . . . 10%
(a) Is genuinely interested and actively participates in various community activities.
(b) Is a leader in interpreting and establishing good school-community relations.
(c) Develops constructive relations between home and school.
(d) The teacher as a person . . . 10%

(a) Demonstrates soundness of character, is honest and sincere and adheres to high moral principles.
(b) Has a deep faith in the appreciation of our American way of life.
(c) Is open-minded, happy, and tolerant in outlook on life, and is emotionally stable; gets along well with others.
(d) Is well-versed in contemporary affairs; shows interest in things outside his own field of specialization.

Development of Plan
The merit concept in West Hartford is not new. Teachers have received "merit" increments for more than twenty-five years. At first these consisted of an additional $100 each year. Since the adoption of a new step schedule in 1947, teachers recommended for "merit" increments have been accelerated on the schedule by being granted an additional step increment.

With the adoption of this schedule, teachers reaching scheduled maximum were not eligible for the "merit" increments. It seemed reasonable that some form of merit recognition ought to continue for these people. The Superintendent therefore asked the teachers' association to study the problem. A committee was appointed by them and after five years of study, a plan was recommended and approved by the teachers on an experimental try-out basis. It was then presented to the Board of Education and adopted by them in November 1953.

To date, 30 teachers at maximum have been awarded the first step and are receiving $500 more than the amount they would receive for their degree preparation; eight teachers are at the second step and are receiving $1000 more than the normal maximum. There are 122 teachers at maximum, which means that 81% of our teachers have received the first or second step of this special award. The present cost of the West Hartford career program is $23,000 per year, which is approximately one-half of 1% of our current operating budget.

(The second article by Dr. Thorne will deal with other phases of the plan.)

Working In New Location

by Jim Riley

Well here we are! We're operating at our new location at Broad and Lenox Sts., S. Stroudsburg, and it might be good to point out that we are quite proud of our new building.

The editorial staff invites everyone to visit us and see the big improvement in surroundings. We're not completely set as yet and haven't worked all the "bugs" out of our new nine column paper, but we are hard at the task and things should be running smoothly in the very near future.

We may be in a new building, working at a new location and featuring a new format—but we still like our old friends and wish to further cement our fine relations. Come visit us.

Steve Libby, the man who used to handle publicity for Shawnee Inn and Country Club, is now handling publicity for several television programs.

Steve also used to be the number one publicity agent for Fred Waring's Pennsylvanians, but gave up this position because of the intensive traveling involved.

Steve lives just outside of New York with his wife and two children.

Libby is currently working on publicity for the following television shows: Studio One, Climax, Death Valley Days, Sky King, Wednesday Night Fling, O. S. S. (new Fall program) and the upcoming Oct. 13) Standard Oil Co. Spectacular on NBC.

He still keeps his eyes and ears open for items of interest for us folks in Monroe County.

Ike Aide Adams Gets Bulldup For President

By Central Press

Washington — State estate political observers are convinced that Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams is being given a shrewd, subtle bulldup toward the top of the presidential nomination.

A d d a n a himself fully and firmly and actively and competently as President Eisenhower's chief of staff.

Nevertheless, rumors persist that the further governor of New Hampshire is Ike's choice of the next GOP standard-bearer. These factors are being taken into consideration:

Mr. Eisenhower has said that Adams is the "only man" who really knows what Ike is trying to do as President and as leader of the "modern" Republican party.

In his White House office, Adams has acquired experience and background in other possible nominees could hope to match. Significantly, there has been no indication that Mr. Eisenhower will urge the nomination of Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Adams is being "humanized" in magazine stories, television appearances, interviews, and in other ways reaching a skilled, nicely coordinated public relations campaign. He is just 50 and still a prime "presidential" age.

A New For Spide — The nation's only woman member is convinced that Congress should pass a law to help housewives get a better deal for their money in the purchase of potatoes.

Senator Margaret Chase Smith (R., Maine), is backing a bill to require the grading and labeling of potatoes and prevent shipment of those which fall below Grade Two in quality.

She reports that per capita consumption of fresh potatoes has been declining steadily for many years. One reason, she says, is that housewives have been misled by inferior potatoes and have turned to substitutes.

Attractive packaging of high quality potatoes will help the housewife and the farmer, she contends.

Education Yearbook — The Department of Health, Education and Welfare has come out with the first of a contemplated annual series of yearbooks on the broad topic of "Education Around the World."

The 300-page book, titled Education for Better Living, contains first-hand accounts of educational programs rooted in the cultures of 15 different countries and reflecting what the department calls a "new dimension in public education."

A significant trend noted in the study is that "education around the world is moving out of the classrooms into the heart of community life, whether in the Philippines, behind mud walls in India, or a rural village in the United States."

The department plans to take a different, timely theme for study each year and discuss it in terms of specific developments or programs in selected countries.

WASHINGTON, June 24 (U-Pa) — The Government has about decided to give up its battle to collect excise taxes on the installation of television cables.

A spokesman for the Internal Revenue Service said the decision to give up isn't yet final. But, he added, "three cases have gone against us and it is likely we will accept the courts' decisions."

Automobile Demolishes Four Signs

DELAWARE WATER GAP—Four signs along Route 611 were knocked down early yesterday morning it was announced by Police Chief Fred Decker.

James Bowman, 30, of Prospect St., East Stroudsburg, was booked on a reckless driving charge and charged with the damage, Decker reported.

The signs were the "Foxhill Cabins," "Blue Totem Antiques," "Layton Osborne's Cabins," and "Messler Cabins" markers which border on the highway. No mention was made of any charges to be levied by sign-owners. The Messler sign was neon.

Estimate — Decker estimated the time of the accident at 3 a.m., but said that it could have happened any time between 2 and 5 a.m.

The front right side of Bowman's car displayed signs of damage. Amount of damage was not estimated.

The hearing on the reckless driving charge will be heard tomorrow morning.

Regulations Listed For Trucks During Holiday

HARRISBURG—Pennsylvania Turnpike Safety Director Harold S. Roberts yesterday reminded trucking company officials, dispatchers and drivers of oversize vehicles that vehicles or combination of vehicles over eight feet wide, 13 and one-half feet high, 70 feet long or over 100,000 pounds in weight will be prohibited from traveling the Pennsylvania Turnpike from Monday, July 1, 1957 at sundown to Monday July 8, 1957 at sunup.

Pennsylvania Turnpike rules and regulations prohibit such vehicles from travel during hours of darkness as well as on weekends and from two full days before a holiday through one full day after a holiday.

Although vehicles or combination of vehicles in the above classification are normally permitted to travel the roadway daily from sunup to sundown Monday through Thursday, nevertheless with July 4th occurring on Thursday this year, the only travel permitted by the above classification of vehicles during that week will be Monday July 1, from sunup to sundown.

Red Chinese Rap Critics

HONG KONG, June 24 (U-Pa) — Red China has warned its internal "rightist" critics against expecting any Hungarian-type revolution in China. In addition, it has indicated many of its critics are "extremists" who take too much advantage of Mao Tse-tung's statement that all have a right to criticize the regime.

With these warnings came a hint that the critics themselves are beginning to fear they have tucked out their necks too far.

Burns Fatal To Former Resident

FUNERAL services will be held today for Edouard A. Dreux, 58, who died last Friday of burns received at his home in Jersey Shore.

Mr. Dreux died about nine hours after his pajamas caught fire from a cigarette lighter and enveloped the upper part of his body in flames. His death occurred in the Jersey Shore Hospital.

He had been an invalid since suffering a polio attack when he was 12 years old, and had undergone more than 20 major operations.

Painter — A well known painter, he had done considerable portrait and landscape work. His most famous portraits were of Sen. Charles Barton, head of the New Jersey State Senate, for which he was awarded a citation by the Senate, and that of Cardinal Francis Spellman, of New York. The latter portrait hangs in St. Patrick's Cathedral.

He had painted a number of landscapes at Delaware Water Gap, where he resided before moving to Central Pennsylvania six years ago.

Requiem mass will be celebrated in St. Matthew's Catholic Church, East Stroudsburg, at 9:30 a.m. today. Burial will be in Delaware Water Gap Cemetery. Dunkelberger and Westbrook Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Mary Jane Caponigro Is Bride Of D. J. Labate

Bangor—The wedding of Miss Mary Jane Caponigro to Dominick J. Labate was performed by Rev. Genaro Leone, on June 15 at 11 a. m., at Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church, Roseto.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Caponigro of 623 Pennsylvania Ave., Bangor, while the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carmell Labate, of 800 South Main St., Phillipsburg, N. J.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a dress of lace over tulle with a sabrina neckline, embroidered with roses and pearls. Her three-tiered veil fell from a pillbox of lace and pearls and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis and carnations.

She was attended by her cousin, Mrs. Elizabeth Spagiani, of Bangor, who wore a white tulle gown with blue accessories and carried a bouquet of daisies and white carnations. Anne Spagiani, of Bangor, as flower girl wore a dress of blue organza and carried white daisies.

The color scheme was also carried out in the church decorations of white and blue carnations. Mrs. Lucy Ronco was organist and Mrs. Jean Pinto was soloist.

Dominick F. Ronco, of Roseto, was best man.

The bride's mother wore blue lace with pink accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore grey silk with pink accessories.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Blue Valley Farm Show building before Mr. and Mrs. Labate left for a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Canada. They will make their temporary home with the bride's parents.

The bride, a graduate of Bangor High School, is employed by Cardinal Blouise Co., Roseto. The bridegroom, a graduate of Phillipsburg High School, is an agent for the Prudential Insurance Co.

Racing in the annual All-Woman Transcontinental Air Race is nothing new for Miss Edgerly, but it is the first time that she will be sponsored by the Pocono Chamber of Commerce and Vacation Bureau.

She is the only local contestant among the 50 or more pilots in this 11th air race. They will take off from San Mateo, Cal. on the 2567-mile flight across the United States to Philadelphia on July 6. This is the first time that Philadelphia has been chosen as the terminus for the aviation classic.

It is a handicap event in which the winner is not the first to finish but the individual aircraft making the highest ground speed in relation to its estimated par speed over the entire course. Daylight and visible flight is permitted only. Stock model aircraft, not exceeding 350 horsepower, are also specified.

Deadline for the race is 5 p.m. July 10 at North Philadelphia Airport where all ships come in to buzz across the finish line at 100 foot altitude and where their final time is scored from the ground. Fuel or overnight stops must be made at designated airports where race officials have set up time-clocks and cleared a race-flight line. Two are "must" stops: Salt Lake City and Harrisburg, Pa.

The majority of the women pilots are professional flyers; ex-WASPS, test pilots, instructors, charter pilots, flying their own ships.

Miss Edgerly will fly a Tri-Pacer 150, 1957 model. This will be her fifth entry in this race and her fourth as pilot. She has a total of 500 hours in the air, 400 of them solo. She is planning to write a story of the race. Her co-pilot, Helen Greinke of Bloomington, Ill., is a writer of aviation textbooks and operates a navigation school and course.

FROM GLEASON WITH GLEE—Top U. S. comedian Jackie Gleason took time out from "counting his money" to visit Pocono Playhouse over the weekend. During intermission the beaming comic stopped for a chat with radiant-smiling Rowena Stevens, Playhouse producer-manager. Gleason has spent much of past three weeks relaxing at Shawnee Inn. Asked by Daily Record interviewer two weeks ago about his future plans, Gleason replied: "I'm gonna sit back and count the money." He will be off television this year but will collect full annual salary on his exclusive CBS contract.

NO CHAMPIONSHIP fight can get along without public relations between one combatant's camp and the sports writers of the world. And this is more so in the case of Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson whose antics and pre-fight moods are good copy even if he never gets to the ring to face heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson for the title at New York's Polo Grounds July 29.

The man who will be responsible for the stories circulating out of Jackson's camp at Harry's Farm is one Eddie Walker. Now Walker is not synonymous with the sports writing field as say Sam Taub, the former air-caster, who is Patterson's tub-thumper at Greenwood Lake, N. J.

Eddie by trade is a boxing manager. Having handled the affairs of Midgat Wolgan, the former fly-weight champ; Hammerstein Henry Armstrong, the owner at one time of three crowns, lightweight, junior welter and welterweight; Steve Belts, the middleweight of renown; and Chas. Wright, featherweight king of what seemed like a million battles.

Walker, however, is lounging today as a liaison man between a fighter's camp and the press. His last work was pushing Gene Fulmer when the challenger was preparing for his first bout with Sugar Ray Robinson. He might be a good luck charm for the Salt Lake City, Utah scrapper lifted the title from Sugar Ray's head when Walker was around. When the second bout took place, Eddie was on duty elsewhere, and we all know the Harlem dandy regained the diadem from Fulmer.

Walker will be hanging around these parts for the next five weeks, or until the day Jackson breaks camp for his "battle of his career" against King Floyd.

In the meantime he'll (Walker) line up a score of typewriters for the visiting journalists; get wire service; have phones installed; and over-all make the press happy by picking up the "tabs" for their eating and sleeping habits.

Right now, Eddie is doing all of the releases that are hitting Associated Press, United Press and International News Service. But when the writers arrive en-masse, Walker will turn into a sort of Elia Maxwell, hosting, greeting and generally informing the key-punchers on where to go and how to find it.

Eddie is well-gifted for the job. The man from Gotham is well versed on boxing and knows every angle that can make the visiting writers stay more comfortable and profitable. His first "guest" arrived Sunday in the person of Harry Grayson, NEA sports editor. Grayson spent a day at Harry's and liked what he saw, stressing the wonderful facilities for a training hideout—the ring amidst shady trees, and all of the boxer's paraphernalia near Trainer Freddy Brown's fingers. Grayson will be back at a later date and take in Hurricane's drills in the ring and give his views on the challenger's chances against Patterson, come the night of July 29.

There are many phases in staging a championship fight, and Walker's duties are only a small part in this promotion. But the money that will be put out to make Eddie's Elia Maxwell post worthwhile will be anything but peanuts.

The Yankee dollar will be multiplied many times here where Walker vacates the area.

Brooks Win

ST. LOUIS, June 24 (U)—Carl Erskine in his first start of the year achieved a victory as Brooklyn dumped the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals to-night 10-3 on a six-run rally in the seventh inning. Duke Snider with two home runs and slump-checked Carl Furillo with a key pinch hit double and a home run shared six RBIs. Erskine showed well, allowing two runs and just four hits in six innings. No Cardinals walked.

Erskine was lifted for a pinch hitter in the seventh inning eruption after he and Sam Jones were locked in a tight six-inning duel.

Ed Roebuck replaced the right-hander and finished up. Pinch-hitter Joe Cunningham got to him for a home run in the eighth inning.

Federal Judge Ryan Orders Abandonment Of IBC

Sweeping Decree Hits Promoters' Garden Stock

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK, June 24 (U)—A federal judge today ordered dissolution of the International Boxing Club that has dominated pro boxing in recent years and ruled that Jim Norris and his partner, Arthur Wirtz, must sell their stock in Madison Square Garden.

The sweeping decree, read by Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan to a tense, quiet courtroom, was designed, he said, to reopen professional title contests to "legitimate and healthy competition."

In addition to ruling that the IBC of New York and Illinois be dissolved, Judge Ryan directed Norris and Wirtz to resign as Garden officers and directors within 30 days after July 1 and to get rid of all Garden stock within five years.

First reaction from Norris, president of the IBC and a director of the Garden and Chicago Stadium and both IBC corporations, was to await the advice of his lawyers. He said he did not know whether he would appeal.

"We will have to go over it with counsel to see what our next step will be," said Norris. He indicated whatever the decision of counsel might be, "I intend to stay in boxing."

Asked whether the decree would affect negotiations for Ray Robinson's defense of his middleweight title against welterweight champion Carmen Basilio, Norris said "I don't think it will."

Judge Ryan, who on March 8 had found Norris, Wirtz and the IBC guilty of monopolizing the promotion of title fights, said "the divorce of Norris, Wirtz and the Garden must be complete and irrevocable."

The final decree, effective July 1 enjoins Norris and Wirtz from holding any office in the Garden.

Until the two IBC corporations are dissolved, the judge enjoined them from functioning in the promotion of championship contests.

The IBC runs two weekly television fight shows, every Wednesday on ABC and every Friday on NBC. The contracts recently were renewed for two years in a deal involving many millions of dollars. However, there was a clause permitting the sponsor or network to negotiate with any other promoter who might be able to stage a title fight.

One of the major provisions of Judge Ryan's decree declared void all exclusive contracts with champions and leading contenders and also exclusive contracts with stadia other than those owned by Norris and Wirtz.

Madison Square Garden will be forbidden from promoting more than two title fights each year for the next five years and a similar restriction has been put upon Norris and Wirtz wherever they promote.

Floyd Vs. Amateur?

NEW YORK, June 24 (U)—Floyd Patterson's manager confirmed today that the world heavyweight champion has signed to defend his crown for $250,000 against Olympic champion Pete Radetsky at Seattle the week of Aug. 13.

Radetsky, a balding, 25-year-old former football player from Grandview, Wash., never has fought professionally. The "unique, fantastic" match, as Patterson's manager, Gus D'Amato called it, is contingent on Patterson beating Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson at New York's Polo Grounds, July 29.

If Patterson beats Jackson, as he is heavily favored to do, the Patterson-Radetsky fight will mark the first time in boxing that a world amateur champion has stepped directly into the pro ranks for a shot at the heavyweight king.

Ballplayers Back Owners

WASHINGTON, June 24 (U)—Three of baseball's top performers lined up with the club owners today against any great tinkering with the rules governing players and contracts. The subcommittee, headed by Rep. Celler (D-NY), is probing possible monopoly and anti-trust aspects of baseball's organization.

A stout defense of the way baseball is run came from Jerry Coleman, infielder for the world championship New York Yankees; Eddie Yost, veteran third sacker for the Washington Senators; and Robin Roberts, star pitcher for the Philadelphia Phillies.

Dark Leads

NEW YORK, June 24 (U)—Alvin Dark, St. Louis Cardinal shortstop, has taken over the lead from Cincinnati's Roy McMillan by a margin of 147 votes in the poll for the National League All-Star team to play the American League at St. Louis Tuesday, July 9.

Rain Washes Out Area's Sports Card

OLD MAN weather turned his back on the area's sports front yesterday and rained out the entire scheduled slate.

Hurt most by the showers was the start of the Monroe County Softball Tournament. The opening game between Twin City TV and Pocono Shoe was postponed until today at Stroudsburg playground, starting at 6 p.m.

The tournament will go again tomorrow. Pitted in the "second" inaugural are Nebel's Market and Al Bessecker's Diner. The tilt is set for the playground diamond at 6:15 p.m.

All contests in the Pocono Mt. Little League were washed out yesterday. However, Barrett Rotary and Barrett Lions will kick off the second half campaign at Signin Field Wednesday.

Play Saturday
Stroudsburg Little League officials set a makeup date for the last night's rained out Penn-Stroud Hotel and Security Trust game. It will be played Saturday at 10:30 a.m.

Two Babe Ruth League contests were hit by the weather. They will be made up at later date.

Another game put aside by the rain was the Industrial Softball League tilt between Line Material and Ronson. It will be replayed at the end of the season.

East Stroudsburg's Little League also suffered by the foe of "old sol." Heller-Lloyd-Howell and National Bank Major duel was postponed along with a minor league game involving Hughes and Counter-man's. No date has been set for replay.

JACKSON TOUGHENS UP—Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson's foe the night of July 29 at New York City's Polo Grounds, reveals his unorthodox style by hacking away left-handed at tree stump at Harry's Farm. Tommy, a "right-hander" in the ring, had an off day yesterday but decided to run 12 miles and was away at trees to "kill" some of the time before he resumed ring workouts today. ## 'Hurricane' To Ink Pact Thursday

COLUMBIA, N. J. — Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson will break camp for one day at Harry's Farm Thursday to go to New York City and affix his signature for the official signing for his heavyweight championship bout with Floyd Patterson.

The linking, under the eye of New York State Commissioner, Julius Helfand, will take place in the Commission's office, just off Broadway.

Jackson and Patterson will fight for the title at the Gotham's Polo Grounds, Monday, July 29.

"Hurricane" enjoyed an "off day" yesterday from his rigid training chores, only loping the highways and sideroads for three and one half hours.

New Drill Slate
His trainer, Freddy Brown announced a new schedule for the challenger which will give the unorthodox fighter two days escape from ring chores.

The new slate has Jackson working in the squared circle Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays. Mondays and Thursdays will be the off-days.

Jackson during his off time enjoys boating on the Delaware, chopping and saving trees in and around Harry's spacious layout and listening to the juke box for hours.

The Number One Contender for the crown is in top-flight condition, weighing 199, just four short of the poundage he expects to take into the ring with him against Patterson.

Philly Women Medalists

PITTSBURGH, June 24 (U)—Two Philadelphia stars each shot 78, three over par, to tie for medalist honors today in the 21st annual Pennsylvania Women's golf tournament qualifier at the Pittsburgh Field Club.

Mrs. J. Albert Hayes, a former Philadelphia district champion from Philadelphia Country Club, carded 41-37-78. Alice Gray, from Merion Country Club, returned the same nine-hole totals over the 6,255-yard layout.

The pair finished one stroke ahead of the defending champion, Mrs. John M. Dyson of Hazleton, and Maureen Riley of New Castle Country Club, the western Pennsylvania titlist.

Mrs. Dyson and Miss Riley, the finalists last year at Reading, shot like totals of 40-39-79 on the par 33-73 course.

Thirty-two qualifiers will begin match play tomorrow for the championship.

Bassey, Feather Champ, Stops Hamia In 10th

PARIS, June 24 (U)—Hogan Kid Bassey of Nigeria tonight won the world featherweight championship by stopping favored Cherif Hamia in France in 2:22 of the 10th round.

The 25-year-old Bassey, who became the first Nigerian ever to win a world title, battered the European titleholder into bloody helplessness. Referee Rene Schemann of France, the only official, stepped in as Hamia reeled to the ropes and awarded the bout to Bassey on a knockout.

Under a rain of blows in the tenth, Hamia collapsed against the ropes, dragging Bassey with him. Hamia's knees dropped to the canvas as he struggled against the ropes and Bassey disengaged himself to get to a neutral corner.

Before the referee could start his count, Hamia got up and aimlessly staggered across the ring to the ropes on the other side. The referee then stepped in and stopped the fight. It was listed officially as a knockout.

Bassey had been down for an eight count in the second round, but he rallied strongly and was far ahead when the end came. His victory came in the final round of the elimination tournament set up by the World Boxing Committee to determine a successor to Sandy Saddler of New York. Saddler retired last Jan. 22 because of an eye injury.

Goodman's homer, his second of the year, followed Bob Boyd's lead-off single in the fourth inning to give the Orioles a 2-0 lead. Baltimore added another run in the sixth on Goodman's bad hop single over shortstop Harvey Kuenn's head, a bunt single by Al Filarek and another single by rookie Joe Durham.

The other three Oriole runs were charged to relief pitcher Al Aber. Two scored in the seventh on two singles, a hit batter and an infield double play. Two singles and a pair of sacrifices brought home another run in the eighth.

Sugar Insists On 45 Percent

NEW YORK, June 24 (U)—Sugar Ray Robinson continued to insist on 45 per cent of the gate for a proposed middleweight title defense against welterweight champion Carmen Basilio in September so today's conference with promoter Jim Norris drew a "no progress" report.

Harry Markson, managing director of the International Boxing Club, said Norris and Robinson had a "long friendly conference."

Entry List Growing For Glen Brook Pro-Am

FIFTEEN PROFESSIONALS and 13 amateurs have accepted invitations to participate in the annual Glen Brook Pro-Am Golf Tournament at the Glen Brook Country Club July 1.

This year's classic will be under the direction of Walter Thiel. Heading the list of early professional entries are four linksmen from Shawnee. They are Harry Obitz, head pro, and his assistants Ron Ward, Dick Farley and Bob Jamison.

A former Shawnee pro, Stan Dudas, is also listed among the early acceptees. Dudas is now head pro at North Hills, near Philadelphia.

Two well-known local amateurs also are among the current field. Chet Ogrodowski, many-time Glen Brook club champion, will team up with Leo Heller, long a favorite on Overbrook C. C. as one team, while Leo Heller, long a favorite on area courses, will join Henry Williams of Berkleigh, near Reading, in the championship runoff.

Other Entries
The other pros who have filed intentions are Fred Geist, Berkleigh; J. Lewis, Holmesburg; Art Paul, Meadowslands; Johnny Moyer, Schuylkill; Harry Will, Lebanon; A. Keeping, Gulf Mills; Bill Boyle, Iron Rock; Sam Fagnotta, Hopewell.

Amateurs set for the 18-hole grind are George Saul, Harry Smith, Sid Gamburg, Charley Snell, George Potter Jr., Al Bass, Bill Hoffman, George Cooper and Fred Waring.

Thiel announced last night that the field will rise in the next five days when the rest of the entries file application to participate in the annual event.

Phil Homers Down Braves

MILWAUKEE, June 24 (U)—Stan Lopata, Ed Bouchee and Rip Repulski crushed home runs tonight as the National League's fourth place Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Milwaukee Braves 10-4 in a make up game. The defeat dropped the Braves from second to third behind Cincinnati.

Kell Leader At 3rd Base

NEW YORK, June 24 (U)—George Kell, veteran Baltimore third baseman, has pushed ahead in the five-way battle for the American League all-star team with a slender lead over Reno Bertola of Detroit.

Kell, who recently joined the 2,000-hit club in the majors, has just returned to regular duty after his second "benching" of the year. Kell has 19,874 votes in the latest release from the office of Commissioner Ford Frick. Bertola had 19,599.

How they stand

MONDAY'S BASEBALL
AMERICAN LEAGUE
Baltimore 6, Detroit 0, night
Only game scheduled.

NEW YORK, June 24 (U)—Gale Kerwin, newcomer from Valley Stream, N. Y., tonight stopped favored Tony DiBisce of New York in 1:21 of the fifth round of a telecast fight at St. Nicholas Arena. DiBisce weighed 147½, Kerwin 142½.

Referee Mark Conn halted the scheduled 10-rounder after DiBisce had been cut over both eyes and had taken a severe drubbing in the fifth.

Kerwin, a native of Ottawa, Canada, started the New York University geology student on the way out at the end of the fourth when he floored Tony with a jolting left hook to the jaw.

DiBisce, 21, crashed on his back. The bell sounded at the count of three to save Tony. It didn't look like he could beat the count.

NEW YORK, June 24 (U)—Mickey Mantle is running behind his torrid pace of 1956 in two of the important batting categories. But the New York Yankees' star centerfielder appears well on his way toward his second straight crown, a feat never accomplished in the major leagues.

After 62 games, the 25-year-old switch-hitter shows an average of .392 with 21 home runs and 51 runs batted in. He leads the American League in the first two departments, but is one RBI behind Washington's Roy Sievers, the pacesetter with 52.

In as many games last year, Mantle had a batting average of .376, 27 homers and 65 runs batted in. He finished the season with .353, 52 circuit blows and 130 RBIs.

Quiet Reigns On Big Loops' 16-Club Managerial Front

IT'S BEEN pretty quiet on the baseball managerial front in far and wide a third of the way toward success or failure in October.

But as the pennant chase begins to straighten out for the July 27th, the quietude of the managerial front will be up against the usual thing line brigade which starts with the front office and extends on to the playing fields and the stands or vice-versa.

Apparently all the major clubs are getting along all right, with the only field manager accented thus far being Bob Scherfing of the Cubs, who has been running hot and cold and has his team just where everybody figured it would be, in last place.

Klein Leads Lafayette In Batting

EASTON, PA. — Charlie Klein, a sophomore from Quakertown, led the Lafayette College baseball in hitting this season.

Klein, an outfielder, who bats from the left side, hit .337 during the season. He was in the lineup against right-hand pitching almost exclusively.

Stu Murray, Lafayette basketball star from West Orange, N. J., who played first base and was in all 28 Lafayette games, hit .362.

Al Caesar, Fairfield, Conn., former Cheltenham, Pa., star, hit .350 in 23 games and set a new Maroon home run record, with nine. He played at short.

Ceasars also led in runs batted in, with 29, and scored 26 runs.

Four other Lafayette players hit over .300. They are Tommy Morgan, Higgins, Pa., .377; Bozok, Donora, Pa., .318; Jack Stotter, Quakertown, .311; and Ted Sloan, Philadelphia, .308. All but Stotter will be back next year.

Top Pitching

Howard Stoneback, Allentown, N. J., and Ray Smith, Elizabeth, N. J., were the top pitchers. Stoneback's record was 8 and 3 and Smith's 8 and 2.

Stoneback had an earned run average of 1.00, while Smith's ERA was 2.00. Stoneback struck out 82 and walked 26 in 11 games. Smith fanned 90 and walked 39 in 10 games.

Altobelli Recalled

CLEVELAND, June 24 (AP) — First baseman Joe Altobelli was recalled from Columbus of the International League today and will join the Cleveland Indians prior to tomorrow's game with the New York Yankees, Indians' officials announced today.

Lafayette Teams Have Good Year

EASTON, PA. — Lafayette College athletic teams had another successful year during the past year.

Of the 100 contests in which 13 Maroon teams engaged, they won 64, lost 36 and tied 4.

The Lafayette basketball team made the best record, winning 20 and losing 5 games. For the first time, Lafayette was in the NCAA post-season playoffs.

The Maroon baseball team, with a record of 16 and 7, again represented the Middle Atlantic Conference in the District 2, NCAA, playoffs.

Other winning records were posted by the football team (6-3); golf team (7-5), and tennis team (8-4). The cross country, swimming, soccer and track teams broke even. Losing seasons were experienced by the wrestling and lacrosse teams.

Out To Qualify For Pub-lix

HERSHEY, Pa. — Eight members of the Hershey Park Golf Club, headed by Art and Paul Garrison, former Pennsylvania Publix champions, will attempt to qualify for the National Public Links Tournament, to be played at the local course, July 29 through August 3.

In addition to the Garrisons, other Hershey golfers who will seek to qualify at Valley Forge Golf Club on Monday, July 8, are, Carmen Raniero, Joe Casantini, Jim Burns, Major Thompson, Dino DiClemente and Endo Corsetti.

Bauer Cleared To Sue 'Suer'

NEW YORK, June 24 (AP) — New York Yankee outfielder Hank Bauer was cleared today by a grand jury of a charge he lured a night club patron during a midnight melee.

Bauer's attorney, Sidney O. Friedman, announced immediately that the ballplayer will sue the man who caused his arrest, for "compensatory and punitive damages," and is also considering action for "malicious prosecution."

Surprise For Board Members

KITCHENER, Ont., June 24 (AP) — Board members upped eyebrows on finding cradles and baby seats itemized on the purchase list of a home for the aged.

Alderman Anna Hughes set them right: cradles are for turning patients over in bed; love seats are just two-seated chairs, or necessarily for romance.

Old Timers To Hit New York July 27

NEW YORK, N. Y. — A galaxy of former Yankee and Tiger stars have been invited to appear at the colorful annual Old Timers' Day festivities at Yankee Stadium on Saturday afternoon, July 27th. This year's Old Timers' event will honor former Yankee pilot Marse Joe McCarthy and one-time Detroit great, "Wahoo Sam" Crawford, both of whom will be entering the Cooperstown "Hall of Fame" earlier the same week.

The greatest array of stars from two teams ever assembled is expected at the "Home of Champions" for the Yankees' traditional salute to the greats of yesterday. These annual events have become as important a part of the baseball season as the "All-Star" game.

Ex-Yankees

Former Yankee players who served under McCarthy have been invited to return to honor their manager. Among those who have been invited are Joe Dimaggio, Charley Keller, Tommy Heinrich (forming the great Yankee outfield of a few years ago), Red Rolfe, Phil Rizzuto, Lyn Lary, Nick Etten, Billy Johnson, Frank Crosetti, George Stinewiss, George Selkirk, Ben Chapman, Sam Byrd, Earl Combs, Dusty Cooke, Bill Dickey, Joe Glenn, Lefty Gomez, Johnny Allen, Monte Pearson, Red Ruffing, Joe Page, Johnny Murphy, Hank Barow, plus "Hall of Famer" John "Home Run" Baker . . . to name a few.

Among the ex-Tiger stars invited to the big Yankee program are Bobo Newsum, Tommy Bridges, Schoolboy Rowe, Gen. Alvin Crowder, Hal Newhouser, Eldon Auker, Dizzy Trout, Mickey Cochrane, Charley Gehring, Dale Alexander, Hank Greenberg, Oscar Vitt, Donie Bush, George Moriarty, Frank O'Rourke, Johnny Neun, Billy Rogell, Heinie Manush, Doc Cramer, Pete Fox and many more.

"Georgia Peach"

The "Georgia Peach," Ty Cobb and Crawford's ex-roommate, Dave Jones, now 77, will be on hand to salute "Wahoo Sam." All in all, this year's Old Timers' Classic appears to be the biggest yet staged by the Yankees.

Ham Ousted At Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England, June 24 (AP) — American tennis fortunes hit a hard rock bottom today in the cold, wind and rain of Wimbledon when the No. 1 player of the nation lost in the opening round of the unofficial "world" championships to an unseeded Chilean.

Hamilton Richardson, once considered the lad who would help America bridge the lean years until the youngsters developed, was knocked quickly out of the 71st Wimbledon championships by Luis Ayala, 3-6, 6-4, 7-5, 6-5.

Daily Double Pays $2590

BOSTON, June 24 (AP) — The daily double at Suffolk Downs today paid $2,590.20 each to 21 ticket-holders.

The season's highest double return resulted from wins by Jackie's Folly in the first at $33 and Rockbrown in the second at $165.20.

The payoff was the sixth largest daily double in New England history.

Tribe Inks Drapcho

CLEVELAND, June 24 (AP) — The Cleveland Indians today announced the signing of Ed Drapcho, 21-year-old lefthanded pitcher of Penn State University.

Car Crashes Into Rails On Route 115

FERN RIDGE — A recent-model sedan crashed through a guard-rail near here at 1:15 a. m. yesterday.

The driver, Steven F. Rentko, 20, of 29 John Street, Nanticoke, was uninjured.

Driving South According to the State Police here, Rentko was driving south on Route 115 one mile south of Fern Ridge when his car got out of control and ran off the road. Police estimated the damage at $500.

Rentko was booked on a charge of reckless driving.

Services Held At Bushkill

BUSHKILL—Funeral services for Mrs. Marguerite L. Reidmiller, 48, were held yesterday at 10 a. m. Rev. Harold C. Durkin celebrated the mass at the St. Matthew's Catholic Church, East Stroudsburg.

The pallbearers were Robert Ahnert, James Ogden, Daniel

Automobile Slides Off Highway

APFENZELL—A car skidded on a sharp turn along the Appenzell-Neola roadway, slid off the road, rolled over, hit a walnut tree, and wedged into a second.

The driver was uninjured, although shaken up. According to State Police at Mount Pocono, Alvin C. Ziegler, Jr., 16, was driving along Legislative Route 5767 when he failed to negotiate a sharp turn at 3:40 p. m., on the wet road.

From The 1953 sedan, owned by Ziegler's father, Alvin C., Sr., of Jackson Township, was seriously damaged on the right side and front. No estimate of the damage was made.

The car apparently rolled into the field owned by Milton Werkheiser, Stroudsburg RD 3. The tree prevented the car, and Ziegler, from rolling down the sharp embankment. The auto was resting on its right side when the police arrived. There were no charges.

McAuliffe, Werner Sterling, Wilson MacIntire, and Paul DePue. Arrangements were handled by the Lanterman Funeral Home.

Fifty Members Of Stroudsburg High Class Of 1932 Present At 25th Reunion Dinner

TANNERSVILLE—The class of 1932, Stroudsburg, High School, held its 25th reunion dinner at the Coral Reef, Saturday night.

Fifty members of the class and guests attended. The dinner was presided over by Parke Kunkle, president, who welcomed the guests and expressed his appreciation to the committee members: Ben Coolbaugh, Kathryn Mullins, Betty Peckman and Madalyn Maloney.

who had made the reunion possible. A letter was read from Mrs. Hosier who is now vacationing in Atlanta, Ga., and was unable to be present.

Prizes Mrs. Maloney was introduced as mistress of ceremonies, and awarded prizes to Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wiley, for having traveled the greatest distance to attend; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Berlin of Slattington, the "early bird" arrivals; Paul Clark, for answering all but one question in a test on class affairs; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mullins, who, after 24 years of marriage, were the longest wedded couple present; Catherine Wolverton and Ben Coolbaugh, who, by popular vote, had changed least in appearance since graduation.

Entertainment consisted of a "What's My Line?" and "I've Got a Secret" panel, with Betty Schellhaas, Barbara Gilpin, Jack Mullins, and Ray Walter as panelists, and Trevor Williams, principal of the Bangor schools, as moderator. Secrets were revealed by Mrs. Mullins, and Howard Wiley, a neighbor of green star Walter Brennan. Professions were revealed by Paul Clark, S. S. Kresge Drug Store manager, and David Gregory, a veterinarian.

At the close of the program, the group formed a circle to sing "Auld Lang Syne", and voted to meet in five years for another reunion.

New Attack Opens On Gypsy Moth

HARRISBURG — A two-million-acre plant pest "trapping" campaign to check survival of gypsy moth caterpillars gets underway in eight Eastern and Northern Pennsylvania counties on July 1, the State Department of Agriculture announced yesterday.

Nearly 3,000 large salvaged fruit juice cans lined with sticky flypaper and a special bait to lure moths will be placed in woodland areas trees by 15 trained workers from the State and U. S. Departments of Agriculture.

Capture of male gypsy moths will alert scientists to the danger of possible destruction of farm and forest trees next spring when caterpillars will hatch from moth egg clusters, according to Dr. Thomas L. Guyton, director of the State Bureau of Plant Industry.

Hopeful

"We are hopeful that not a single moth will be captured in the traps," he declared. "Then we will know that our DDT treatment of 106,000 acres this spring in Wayne, Pike and Monroe counties and the USDA coverage of an additional 130,000 acres will have been 100 per cent effective. It is possible that wind may carry moths from infestations in neighboring states and the trapping program this summer should reveal any such migrations."

If moths and egg clusters are found, plans will be made for airplane spraying when caterpillars appear next spring, he explained.

The 1957 trapping program will cover 2,034,000 acres, the largest undertaken in Pennsylvania since 1950 when nearly 6,000 traps were placed in northeastern counties.

Traps will be placed this year in parts of Monroe, Pike, Wayne, Lackawanna, Lehigh, Bucks, Susquehanna and Northampton counties. Last year they were set in Wayne, Pike and Monroe counties where male moths were snared in 24 areas. Egg clusters were discovered in five of these sections.

Work On Delaware River Foot Bridge Advancing On Schedule Near Portland

PORTLAND—Picturesque covered foot bridges are fast disappearing from the rural American scene but the pedestrian hasn't quite been forgotten yet—thanks to the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission and Lenry-Bergen Contractors of New York.

For a time two years ago the outlook was anything but bright for pedestrians living here in Portland and their neighbors in Columbia just across the Delaware River in New Jersey. That's because the Delaware River hit an all-time flood level on Aug. 19, 1955—20.87 feet above the normal low water mark and nearly two feet above the great flood crest of 1905.

Gives Way

The covered bridge linking Portland and Columbia—erected about the time of the Civil War—finally gave way before the 1955 floodtide and parts of it were smashed to splinters as it was swept downstream in torrents of raging water.

As pieces of the structure ripped free, parts of the bridge's massive stone-masonry piers also were swept along with the flood's crest. Now, however, the New Jersey-Pennsylvania pedestrians are looking forward to a new steel and concrete bridge being built under a $320,000 reconstruction project.

When the job is finished—target date is Dec. 1, 1958—Portland and Columbia will be linked by one of the most modern foot bridges in existence—an eight-foot-wide plate-girder span leap-frogging about 800 feet across the Delaware.

But first, Lenry-Bergen has to complete the partial demolition and reconstruction of the damaged piers. At present, the three-man Lenry-Bergen demolition crew is systematically removing the upper portion—from 10 to 12 feet—of each of the stone piers. Once that is off and the base of the piers rebuilt to their original size and strength, the contractors will top each of the 17-foot-high piers with 13-foot-tall poured concrete caps.

Problem One problem facing the contractors was to get a rock drill operating out on the piers in mid-river. The problem has been solved and work is under way.

"While we don't have a large volume of rock to remove on this particular project, what we do have is pretty inaccessible. In fact, our men have to get to work by boat," Reissman added. Work is progressing according to schedule.
